TOP 10 SECRETS OF THE ADMISSIONS PROCESS

Why don't colleges really care about your cumulative GPA? How can you report some (but not all) SAT scores to colleges? Why the perfect essay usually hurts more than helps? What can you do now to help improve your chances of being admitted? We'll discuss college admissions trends and tricks as well as standardized tests, college admissions planning, school and summer activities, jobs, and volunteering. Maybe you've gone to a Huntington "seminar" and were annoyed by the sales pitch. Maybe you thought that the information provided at "college night" was mostly obvious. You want the real scoop. The inside info. No candy coating. You came to the right place. Our free seminars are informational seminars, not sales pitches. This seminar will give you new information that you've never heard before and won't hear anywhere else! (Yes, really.) We'll give you the real scoop. And we won't even mention our services. (Yes, really.)

BIGGEST MISTAKES OF THE ADMISSIONS PROCESS

College Decisions: Comparing & Choosing

The college admissions process is a highly orchestrated, professional and unregulated marketing campaign replete with phony statistics, doctored photos, and false promises. Do you know how colleges are manipulating you? Andover admissions professionals have consulted for college admissions and marketing departments (including 22 of the US News Top 25). We'll share with you the steps that we used with colleges to manipulate applicants – and all colleges do it. Harvard lies about its numbers. Wesleyan about its athletic conference. NYU about its fin aid policies. We will give you the info you need to become a savvy applicant.
